

Tūhono Impact — The Garden (Five Elements)

A quick reference for Creative Spaces. Use this as a conversation starter and to guide light-touch outcome tracking.

Icon	Element	Why it matters	2 prompts to use back in your space
	Seedling — Purpose	Keeps your mahi focused and grounded in local aspirations.	What are we trying to achieve? What makes us different than others?
	Roots — What Good Looks Like (Values)	Defines practice standards and equity commitments; Anchors quality.	What does our good look like to achieve our purpose? How will we know we're living our values day-to-day?
	Sunflower — Measuring Change (Outcomes)	Shows small wins and longer-term shifts over time.	Which 2–3 indicators will we track this term? How will we collect them without extra work?
	Watering Can — Learning (Adaptation)	Turns feedback into improvements; Strengthens practice.	What did we hear this term (surveys, stories)? What will we change next time?
	Harvest Kete — Sharing (Impact Story)	Closes the loop with participants, partners, and funders. Shares your impact story	Who needs to hear this story? What two pieces of evidence will we include (quote, photo, stat)?
	Toolshed	A free resource that can help you find the tools you need.	What tools do I need for the task?
